Ein Kerem Dormitories

Heating:

All the apartments and rooms in the residence have air conditioners, each air conditioner is given an electricity allowance of 8 hours of heating per day in winter only.

Winter season: part of November (from the activation of the heating system in all university dormitories), December, January, February, March.

The electricity readings are done once every two months according to the electricity meter of each apartment, according to the reading the relevant allowance will be offset and the difference will be divided between the tenants and charged through the standing order.

The air conditioning system of the buildings 1,2 is programmed by us for heating or cooling according to the season, the system is closed and every time you remove the plug of the air conditioner from the electrical outlet causes malfunctions and noises in the system, please do not remove the plug of the air conditioner from the electrical outlet.

In the summer there is no electricity allowance and the tenant pays for all the needs to operate the air conditioner.
